Brief About Our Verification Services

1 Education

Academic credentials of an individual is one of the important deciding factors during recruitment. It helps to identify the required skills for the potential opening.

2 Employment

Employment verification is to confirm the authenticity & validity of previous employment information provided by the candidate. By reviewing the past employment history of the candidate; the integrity, stability and loyalty to the employers will be revealed.

3 Identity Proof

ID verification involves verifying the authenticity of the various Identity Documents submitted by the employee such as Passport, PAN card, Driving License and Voter Id.

4 Address Proof

Business is often people dependent; at any point, knowing the whereabouts of its employees is of paramount importance. Address Verification involves validating the credentials of candidates; such as Permanent, Previous, Current address confirmation.

5 Court Record Check

Court Record verification is a process of verifying any litigation or judicial proceedings involving the candidates across India. It includes Civil and Criminal Litigations, Appeals before appellate courts including High Courts and Supreme Court.

Brief About Our Verification Services

6 Credit Check

Financial validation data is prepared by Credit Bureau's to determine the credit worthiness of the people; and it is widely used to understand the credit worthiness & financial discipline of the people.

7 Drug Test

Common reasons employers implement drug testing are;

- To deter employees from consuming alcohol / drugs.
- Prevent hiring individuals who use illegal drugs.
- Be able to identify early and appropriately refer employees who have drug and/or alcohol problems.

8 Database Check

Global database checks are often conducted to mitigate the risk of hiring the politically exposed persons, heightened risk individuals, people involved in money laundering, bribery & corruptions and listed terrorists so on.

9 Reference Check

Reference check verification implies an objective evaluation of past conduct of potential employees. It serves as good indicators of potential employee performance on -the -job, success on difficult situations and also intangible skills such as teamwork, personal attitude etc; to ensure that the candidate should be a good fit for the required role.
